ANTI LOCAL OPTION

Over a Hundred Leading Business Men of Maysville Adopt Resolutions Against Prohibition

Last night at the Courthouse over a hundred of the leading business men of Maysville met in response to the following notice issued through the mail
the day before:

AT THE COURTHOUSE TONIGHT
TUESDAY, AT 7:30 P. M.
A MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN
AND PROPERTY OWNERS
YOUR PRESENCE IS REQUESTED

The meeting was opened by a call to test and act against the proposed attempt to vote Maysville dry under the county unit local option law.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. W. D. Cochran, who in a short speech gave his views on the question of prohibition. He then introduced Judge Alexander of Cincinnati, who told about his experience with prohibition in the State of Ohio and gave facts and figures to back up his statements in regard to local option.

After Judge Alexander's talk Mr. A.
G. Sulser introduced the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

"We, the business men and taxpayers
of Maysville and Mason county, Ky., hereby declare that in our opinion prohibition of the sale of liquor in the city of Maysville would be detrimental to the best interests of our city and county.

In our Summer End Shoe Sale we

THE COTTON BLOSSOM

Captain Ralph Emerson's Beautiful
Boat Will Be at the Wharf Tonight.

The Cotton Blossom Floating Theater
will present the powerful comedy-drama,
"A Devil in Petticoats," at the local wharf this evening.

In presenting this play Mr. Emerson has engaged a special stock company to produce it and the play is first-class in every respect.

Four big vaudeville acts in addition to the play make this one of the best shows on the river and the people of this city can rest assured of seeing a good show by a good company.

Mr. Emerson needs no introduction to Maysville people as he has been here often before and has always had a good,
clean, moral show.

BUILD YOUR HOUSE NOW!

If you are contemplating building a home or a house for an investment, now is the time to place your order. We have the largest stock of all kinds of building material that can be found in Northeastern Kentucky and have large contracts with the lumber men for still greater supply. We contracted this large supply at a price very near cost of production and we are in position to give you the advantage of this good purchase. Place your order now or let us give you an estimate on your requirements; you will then leave your order with Maysville's Foremost Lumber Yard.

o'clock, with short services at the grave
in the Washington Cemetery.

Paris, Ky., July 28.—William Simpson, a negro, came home drunk and angry last night. His wife did not please him, so he took her out of their home and to the L. & N. bridge in North Paris and threw her over the railing.
One leg, one arm and two ribs were broken and she was hurt internally. She is believed to be fatally injured. Simpson is in jail.

peace, dismissed.

TARGET TOURNAMENT

Twelfth Annual Kentucky Gun Club Shoot On Today and Thursday In This City

The Twelfth Annual Target Tournament of the Kentucky Gun Club takes place today and tomorrow on the grounds of the Mason County Gun Club
on the Inland Farm just above Maysville.

Among those here to participate in the shoot are the following:

Mr. M. A. Swift yesterday purchased through Attorney Charles Wood of Mid-dlesboro, the Sallie S. Wood drugstore, corner Second and Market streets, and Mr. Swift is now in charge as sole owner and will continue the business at the same popular stand.

Mr. Swift has been in charge of this drugstore for many years and the only change is in the ownership. The new proprietor is one of Maysville's steady and staunch business men and his rise from clerk to proprietor is sufficient evidence that he has won success by deserving it.

Here's continued good luck to Michael in his new deal.

Fifty-eight young teachers received their life certificates at the annual graduating exercises of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School at Richmond.

To rust or not to rust; that is the question. If we judge by the number of teachers in the normal schools and in the summer schools of State University and Berea College, we must realize that a great number of Kentucky teachers have decided to answer the question in the negative. Rust through pleasurable occupation, and not rust through inactivity—this is the wiser plan for the summer.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

At the very moment when Secretary Redfield is congratulating the country on the big increase of importations of foreign foodstuffs and the consequent decrease of the cost of living, announcement is made by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Company that the price of a dinner on its dining cars has been jacked up from $1 to $1.25, "because of the high prices for food products prevailing now for some years." There is a mistake somewhere. Either Secretary Redfield has been pipe dreaming about the beneficence of Free-Trade making it cheaper to live on earth, or else that railroad company is guilty of an indefensible act of extortion in adding 25 per cent. to the cost of a dinner. People who have to pay grocery and meat bills as high or higher than ever are wondering where Mr. Redfield gets his facts about lower cost of living.

DOMESTIC TRADE THE TRUE KING.

Free-Traders are very fond of pointing to our own country as a perfect illustration of the value of unrestricted exchange of commodities. There is no tariff between the States of the Union, they say, and the result is an internal commerce of vast proportions. But there is a wide difference. Free-Trade between nations drives out of business the labor and industry which cannot produce as cheaply as some other nation can. It is an economic wrong to the individuals thus unemployed, and it thus becomes an economic loss to the country of higher priced labor and greater production cost; a loss for which there is no compensation.

In a country like the United States, with its varied natural resources and its multifarious lines of production, the free interchange of commodities is a source of mutual profit. The trade is between individuals, not between nations. This is how it works: A Milwaukee engine builder sells an engine to a Louisiana sugar planter, who is able to buy the engine because he sells his sugar to a St. Louis merchant, who sells it to Pittsburgh, which is manufacturing rails for North Dakota, which buys them because North Dakota farmers are growing wheat as the result of the demand in Fall River, which is manufacturing cotton for Kentucky farmers growing tobacco for sheep farmers in Oregon who are able to buy it because they sell wool to a Massachusetts wool manufacturer, who manufactures it because he is able to sell cloth to a petroleum refiner in Cleveland, who is able to buy good clothing because he is selling petrol to users of automobiles in Chicago.

And so on to the end of the chain, whose every link is strengthened by the interchange of production and consumption. Upon each of these limitless transactions there is profit, and from the whole bulk of transactions added wealth comes to the country. When footed up the internal trade of the United States amounts to forty times the volume and value of its foreign trade.

It is with this gigantic internal trade that Protection concerns itself. "Foreign trade," said Andrew Carnegie once upon a time, before he had sold out to the Steel Trust and become lukewarm on the question of a Protective Tariff; "foreign trade is a braggart, domestic trade the true king."—American Economist.

Most married women are a trifle envious of a rich widow.

WHAT NEW BANK LAW WILL DO.

You want to know in dollars and cents what this new bank law will do for you? Here is your answer:

It will be possible to stretch every $100 of gold into $175. More accurately it will expand every $100 of credit to $175. Theoretically, the new bank will do this and actually they will do it, too, if the stress comes.

The result will be that the larger volume of money will be loaned for a smaller rate of interest than the lesser amount of money is now loaned.

The United States will very likely never again see twenty-per-cent interest rates, let alone 100 per cent, which we have had in the last seven years.—Philadelphia Ledger.

COLOSSAL BUSINESS IN AUTO VEHICLES.

There is no limit in sight to the use of motor vehicles nor to their sale, whether the various types of passenger autos are considered or those of the classes designed as carriers of freight.

This is a cause of national congratulation, for the auto vehicle industry of the United States has become a great factor in the direct employment of labor, an important contributor to the maintenance of activities in many other industries, a potent producer of foreign cash in payment for the outputs of material and labor of this country.

The auto exports of the present fiscal year will run to values approximating $40,000,000, it is estimated, including the auxiliary supplies sent out from our shops and factories to foreign lands, and with each year our manufacturers are gaining a strong lease abroad.

Years ago The Enquirer predicted that the auto industry, if developed fully in the United States, would result in the same world-wide supremacy of this country in that line of trade as was and is the case with the sewing machines. Our mechanicians are utilitarians and readily adapt their ideas to the advantages of mankind, and it is this quick, practical perception that enables them to place our republic in the van of progress with machinery of all types and classes.

Our home demand for automobiles and motor carriages for freight continues to enlarge, and will continue to expand for years to come.

Auto vehicles have become a necessity in modern business. In their many forms they have come to stay and to add to usefulness on every highway, lane or trail where it is possible for one to pass.

Auto manufacturers, auto dealers, auto users and those who ought to use them can look with confidence to the still greater demand that is assured in the future.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE DAILY NOVELLE.

How It Happened.
A step it was,
A step so weighty
It must have weighed
A thousand eighty.

Achilles was one-stepping with Gladys de Milo at the Hellesquad Assembly Hall, when suddenly he gave a cry of pain.

"Why, Mr. Achilles?" said Miss de Milo wonderingly.

"I thought you were invulnerable to pain?"

"I and I am!" replied Achilles hastily. "I was just thinking of something and happened to think out loud."

"Oh," said Miss de Milo. "Isn't the music heavenly?"

II.

Late that night Achilles sat alone in his tent, brooding.

"I wonder," he muttered through clenched teeth. "I wonder if she did that a purpose?"

III.

Still later that night Silyl Hellas, the trickiest villainess of all mythology, and former sweetheart of Achilles, whispered to Paris, Achilles' mortal enemy.

"He has a vulnerable spot, and it's the right heel!" she hissed. "I accidentally on purpose kicked him there at the ball to-night. Paris, go to it!"

IV.

Quite late that night Achilles was found slain with an arrow in his right heel.—Louisville Times.

NEW TEXT BOOKS

Superintendent Caplinger Gives List Of Books For Next 5 Years

Considerable Sum of Money Is Saved the Patrons

By making the adoption of text books for a term of five years the pupils of the city will be saved a considerable sum of money. While it is not so much for each individual child, but in the aggregate it assumes large proportions. While some books were changed, the Arithmetic, Language, Readers, History and Physiology in the grades, yet the newer books are far superior to the old and the original cost is about the same, with the exception of the Arithmetics being much cheaper than formerly.

Just to make a comparison that is evident, take for example the Seventh Grade pupil and the First Year High School student. Below are the prices and books used previously:

SEVENTH GRADE.
McGuffey's Reader.....	$0.45
Ray's Modern Arithmetic.....	.40
Natural Complete Geography.....	.80
Harvey's New English Grammar.....	.40
Willie's Physiology & Hygiene.....	.60
New Eclectic History of U. S.....	.70
Forman's Essentials in Civil Gov.....	.52
Forman's.....
Steadman's Graded Lessons in Writing.....	.13
Practical Drawing Book.....	.23
Eleanor Smith Music Book.....	.43

TOTAL.....$4.70

The ensuing year the books will cost as follows:

Baldwin & Bender's Seventh R. A. R.....	$0.28
Hamilton's School Arithmetic.....	.38
Natural Complete Geography.....	.80
Thorndike's Every Day English.....	.52
Physiology, Control of Body and Mind.....	.43
Forman's Essentials in Civil Gov.....	.52
Mace's School History of the U. S.....	.88
Steadman's Graded Lessons in Writing.....	.15
Practical Drawing Book.....	.2
Eleanor Smith Music Book.....	.50

TOTAL.....$4.85

You will notice in the comparison that in every instance the same book is considerably cheaper; while in the matter of History, Physiology and Grammar there is no comparison in the new books with the old. The History and Grammar are written entirely with the most advanced conception of how these subjects should be presented, and are far superior to the old book, in content and in workmanship. The typography, binding and everything that goes to make the book a work of art are far superior in the new books.

Another thing that is a great saving in the new adoption, previously six Arithmetics were used from the Second to the Eighth Grade, costing $2.10. Now Hamilton's three-book series, covering the same grades, will cost the pupils $1.03, a saving of little more than half with much better Arithmetics; but as the saving to the pupil is on a percentage basis, the economy is more evident in the High School than in the grades because there the books are much more expensive.

Let us now compare the prices of the Freshman High School books, and in this case they are exactly the same books with the exception of the Algebra:

Brooks' Eng. Composition.....	$.75	$.64
Pearson's Essentials of Lat.....	.90	.77
English Classics.....	1.40	1.29
Myer's Ancient History.....	1.50	1.29
Hunter's Essentials of Biology.....	1.25	1.07
Sharpe's Laboratory Manual of Biology.....	.75	.64
Webster's High School Dictionary.....	1.50	1.29
Algebra (two books were used for a year and a half, costing).....	1.30
And in 1911 Wentworth-Smith's Academic Algebra in one volume, will answer for a year and a half, costing.....		$1.04

TOTAL.....$0.95 $7.71

Every pupil whose last year's book would have been used in the text grade this year, can exchange that book for the newer adopted book, (should there be a change in that particular text at the exchange price. The change price will be printed on a slip given to the pupil the first day of school, as well as the new retail price so that every parent will know exactly the cost of the books. Arrangements have been made by Mr. Russell for a spelling tablet with 90 sheets, so that two spelling tablets will last the pupil for the year instead of four as formerly. The tablet is still to cost the same, five cents. We know that the books, tablets, pencils, etc., cost the patrons too much at best, and for that reason we are doing everything we can to lessen the expense for the patrons and still not cheapen the quality of the texts, for it is cheaper in the end to get a good book, that will encourage the pupils to do successful and thorough work than to get free an inferior book that will result in inferior work.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN.

(Binghamton Cor. New York Sun.)
The Erie Railroad conducted a test here yesterday of the pulling power of the new centipede locomotive, which weighs 410 tons and has 21 driving wheels, eight of them being under the tender to secure additional driving power.

The officers in charge kept adding car after car of coal to the train until it consisted of 250 fully loaded steel "flat ships," with a total weight of 21,000 tons.

The locomotive pulled this train for 40 miles at the rate of 15 miles an hour establishing a new train load record for American railroads as well as for the world. The train was easily 10,000 tons heavier than any ever pulled by a locomotive.

UNITED STATES LEADS

More Papers Published in This Country Than in Any Other.

Over 60,000 newspapers are now appearing at daily or weekly intervals in the various quarters of the globe. Of these considerably over one-half are printed in the English language, there being 23,000 in the United States and over 15,000 in the British empire.

IF YOU FALL OVERBOARD

And Can't Swim Read Here Just What To Do.

In reply to the question as to what one who cannot swim should do if he falls into the water when there is no assistance at hand William H. Daily, champion life saver of the United States, once said:

"When one falls into the water the weight of the body will force it under the water at first, but it will rise again if the mouth is kept shut. When you are under the water clasp your hands behind your back, squaring your elbows so as to balance the floating body, and you will rise to the surface on your back and float until help reaches you or until you starve, as long as you keep your hands in that position.
"The hands clasped and placed on the back of the neck is an equally good position."

If an indel wishes to attract a great deal of attention he must live in a small town.

John Marshall of Mason was here yesterday on a business trip. Mr. Marshall will have a large quantity of lumber sawed on his lands shortly for building purposes. He is one of the up-to-date farmers and stock-growers of this section.—Mt. Olive Tribune.

FUTURE IN STORE FOR MOUNTAINS

Experts Say Fruit Raising Would Drive Out Moonshine Stills.

Frankfort.—The real economical need of the Kentucky mountains, according to the report of a survey made by agents for the Government Canning Club work to the State Department of Agriculture, is a solution of the elemental transportation problem of hauling a load both ways. They are producing little for sale, while wagon loads of merchandise are hauled from the railroads twenty and thirty miles at a cost of 65 cents the hundredweight. Inferentially it gives to moonshining more of an economical than a moral cast, for the conversion of corn into liquor multiplies its cash value, makes it easier to handle and cheaper to transport.

The Government agents intend to demonstrate that, as aside, the canning of fruit is more profitable and more easily marketed. The mountains abound in wild blackberries, the best peaches and the finest sweet potatoes in Kentucky. The mountain people have no more to learn about the handling and marketing of fruits than the people of any other section, the report says. It only is more vital to them, because they are more homogeneously supplied with the raw material, and it is their only resource. And the statement that fruits are their only resource does not mean to speak poverty, the report goes on to say. Properly developed the mountains of Kentucky should become a fruit production region that will make the land valuable and the people wealthy.

The Government project is to teach the scientific method, which is simple enough, but requires the berries to be gathered in clean, wholesome receptacles.

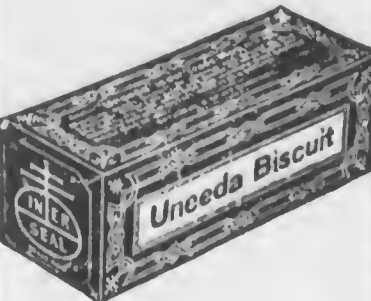

Rockcastle, Laurel, Harlan, Magoffin and Whitley counties have Government agents, as have several counties in Central and Western Kentucky, taking up the tomato canning club proposition. Peaches and sweet potatoes are going to waste by the wagonload in the mountains for lack of knowledge of their marketability and of the proper way to put them up for the market.

The Government agents are not looking beyond the conservation of the food products the mountaineers already have; but the development of the plan they are inaugurating may make the mountains the richest section of the State without counting the coal.

Reports from the girls' canning clubs indicate that they will have a surprising yield of tomatoes, notwithstanding the fact that the gardens as a rule were destroyed by the drought. They prepared the ground and planted and cultivated under expert advice.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 640 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

8. The salaries of high school teachers shall be fixed by county Board by special contract.

Extended School Term.

Any school that averages fifteen or more pupils during fall six months, provided the attendance during the last month shall not fall below 12 pupils, shall be continued one month longer; and if during the seventh month, the attendance shall average 15 or more pupils, the school shall be continued an additional month.

In schools where two teachers are employed, the school must average 30 pupils for the first six months and at least 24 pupils the sixth month to be continued with two teachers and it must average 30 pupils during the seventh month, to be continued during the eighth month; provided, however, that if the school falls below the average necessary for two teachers it shall be continued with one teacher, if it fulfills the salary to continue a one teacher school.

Evidences of Normal Training and Experience.

Teachers who shall claim an advance in salary on the basis of normal or experience shall furnish to the county board of education satisfactory evidence of the same as follows:

1. A statement of the President of the Normal School setting forth that the teacher did satisfactory work in the normal school for the time claimed will be required in case of claim for normal training.

2. In case the teacher bases a claim on experience he shall furnish a statement signed by the sub-district trustee where he taught last and at least three patrons to the effect that he taught a satisfactory school for at least six months.

By Order of the Board,

CAMPMEETING

Great Throngs at Ruggles and "God's First Temples" Resound With Praise, Prayer and Song

Notes From the Meeting and the People There

Ruggles Campground, July 25, 1914.—There are two camps this year who are over eighty years of age. Mrs. Harriet Stevens who is eighty-two and has never missed a campmeeting since the first one forty years ago, and Mrs. Eliza Shuckley of Ewing who is eighty-one and comes for the first time. Today Mrs. Shuckley who is a loyal worker in the Southern Methodist Church, led the women's meeting. A large crowd was out and a fine meeting was had.

Mr. J. R. Hinton led the morning prayer this morning.

Rev. G. N. Jolly, D. D., of Ladlow preached at 10 a. m. Dr. Jolly is at ways interesting and always brings a helpful message. This morning in spite of the extremely hot weather, he had the very best attention.

Rev. Edwin Kirby, D. D., of East Liverpool, Ohio, W. H. Dickerson, District Superintendent of the Ashtand District, and Fred T. Kelly of Russell, arrived by the noon auto. Dr. Dickerson will assume charge of the meetings from now on.

Mr. Frank H. Spencer and family of Maysville came out today to camp for a week.

Rev. Geo. W. Buntun left this afternoon with his family for Mt. Olive, where he goes to preach tomorrow at Penn Grove Campmeeting. They will return Monday in time for the afternoon meeting.

Miss Julia Griffith of Connersville, Ind., arrived this evening to spend several days. She is the guest of her aunt Mrs. R. B. Griffith in the "Old Kentucky House."

Mr. J. Luther Markwell and family of Foxport joined the campers today. They have as their guests their daughter, Mrs. Omar Milmon and children of Mt. Sterling.

After staying away from campmeeting for four years, a thing thought impossible, Harry Markwell, whom all the girls know and love, is again in our midst. Harry says he has been "on the road" for some time.

Rev. M. T. Chandler of Cincinnati, pastor of the M. E. Church South, arrived this afternoon to enjoy Ruggles Campmeeting for awhile.

Mr. J. William Tyler, the big Maysville policeman, joined his family here this evening.

Mr. M. A. Wallingford, member of the Board of Directors of the Association came out today. He will conduct the first Sunday service tomorrow.

Messrs. John R. Brodt of Maysville, and W. P. Bowman of Vanceburg, members of the Board of Directors, came to camp today. Mr. Bowman and his family has been rusticating for sometime at a fishing camp on Kinney.

If you've never been at a Campmeeting on a Saturday night you ought to try the experience once anyway. People who have families here and many who do not, come in on Saturdays to stay over till Monday. The campus is always alive with folks on this night.

It is a pretty sight to see the young folks promading under the stately trees. And then they always ring the bell a little later on Saturday nights giving the young folks a fine opportunity to have a pleasant time on the grounds after the services.

Rev. Edwin Kirby preached this evening to a fine audience. It was his first sermon on Ruggles Campgrounds. If it is any indication of what we are to have tomorrow we are surely in for some fine Sunday preaching. Dr. Kirby is a successful pastor of First Church, East Liverpool, Ohio. He is an Englishman by birth having been a mine worker in the old country. After coming to America he worked in mine work here for two years before taking up the work of the ministry. Since entering the ministry like many other Englishmen whom we have had at Ruggles, he has made a great preacher. His visit to our campmeeting will be remembered with pleasure and profit.

SCHOOL BOOKS WILL

BE TRADED

To Companies at Contract Prices Regardless of Condition.

Frankfort, Ky., July 27.—Regardless of conditions, text books belonging to the children in the public schools of this State will be traded to the book companies at the contract price. As a result, Barksdale Hamlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said yesterday he would save the parents of the children thousands of dollars.

Hamlett has decided that under the act of 1914 all publishers will be required to take up and exchange books regardless of condition, provided they are of the same grade. The ruling was made to correct an impression that was gone out that such books offered in exchange would have to be in good condition.

Hamlett's interpretation of the law
 is that the "good condition" clause applies only to such books as are held by dealers on their shelves, which,
 of course, must be taken up by the contractors at the original net prices.

FROM RUGGLES

Another Letter Full of News Notes
 From the Campgrounds—Attend-dance Very Large.

Ruggles Campground, Sunday July 26.
 —The camp is entertaining a most delightful change in the temperature this evening. After the fierce heat of the past week the change is most welcome making everyone cheer up and feel more like going to church.

There has been a nice first Sunday crowd on the grounds today. If the cool breezes had come sooner there would have been many more, no doubt.
 Those who came and attended the services will rejoice that they came. Dr.
 Kirby fulfilled our greatest expectations. His morning sermon on "Service the Secret of True Greatness," was truly an uplifting and inspiring address;
 the one this evening was equally so. Dr.
 Kirby has won his way into the affections of our people.

At the afternoon service we had to privilege of hearing for the first time
 Rev. W. H. Dickerson the new district superintendent of the Ashland District.
 We had heard of the man and his manner of preaching and was in a measure prepared for something unusual when he preached. Again our expectations were more than realized. His sermon was truly a gem. We are hoping for more of the same kind from him as he is to be here for the remainder of the meetings. The preaching for the first Sunday has been good enough for the most difficult to please; next Sunday
 we will have an old campmeeting favorite—Bishop David H. Moore of Indianapolis. The Bishop has been coming here at times since he was the editor of the western Christian Advocate, it is always popular with all peoples on the Board of Directors in preparation for the big crowds that come on the end Sunday secured the biggest preacher they could get. And no one will ever be disappointed in the Bishop.

The morning prayer service led by Mr. Richardson and the praise service led by Mr. Wallingford were as usual, very helpful services.

Rev. Luther Goolley of Riley, Ky., is a late addition to the crowd of Methodist preachers.

Mrs. J. C. Simons has as her guest during campmeeting, Mrs. John Bradford of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. B. P. McClanahan accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hengel of Newport, and her little granddaughter, Frances Wainner, of Missouri, was here
 for the day.

Mr. B. D. Bryant and family, Mr.
 Godfrey Hunsicker and family, George and Evans Hill, Lewis Willett, Miss Nannie Tully, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gayonish, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith,
 Miss Laura Farrow and Mr. and Mrs.
 J. H. Bryant were some of the Maysville folks who spent the day here.

The day that passes without some of the preachers playing jokes on some of their brother ministers is a rare one.
 One of our preachers who arrived Saturday had never been here before and so didn't know what a joke was. He was getting into it. He retired early, as he supposed all good preachers did and was in slumberland when two other preachers who had been enjoying an evening with friends, came to the preacher's cottage for the night. Now it happens that one of the latter brothers is somewhat of a ventriloquist. Upon retiring he thought he would have some fun at the expense of the new preacher. He began calling him with a far away voice. It was near the midnight hour and the preacher wondered who could be calling him—he couldn't believe it was himself that was being called. But no mistake someone was calling. "O Kelly." He slowly arose and attired in his pajamas stumbled across the room
 among the cots laden with Methodist preachers, stumbling his toes and otherwise injuring his feelings and dignity, reaching the window he yelled "Who is it that wants to see Kelly?" At this every preacher burst out with a big laugh at the new preacher's expense,
 and today they are having their fun
 over the joke.

Think of a children's service with 114 present and one teacher to look after them. Well, that's just the success
 Mrs. Hurd is having with the children.
 This afternoon the little chapel was full to its limit and little ones standing on the outside looking in at the windows. And Miss Hurd is winning the children to the church and a christenlife. As we have said before, parents appreciate the privilege of having their children under such a talented, consecrated worker. More about these meetings later.
